

Terrain:

Woodbury North is part of the Pebblebed Heaths National Nature Reserve, within the East Devon Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. The competition area includes parts of Colaton Raleigh and Woodbury Commons, in addition to adjoining areas of woodland. From the Commons, there are extensive views of the surrounding countryside and nearby coast.

The area generally slopes downwards from the west, but there are many re-entrants and spurs on the slope, so your run will be undulating. These undulations provide some modest contour detail in places and will also need consideration when making route choice decisions. There are also pits and depressions, some of which are a result of the historical military use of the area. There are numerous paths and tracks within the area, but only the most significant of these are mapped (see map notes section below). You will encounter two or three terrain types on your course:

Open heath:

All courses use the heathland, which consists mainly of Grass, Heather and Gorse vegetation. The courses have been planned to avoid the least desirable areas to run over. Due to the summer conservation grazing which takes place on the Commons, there are some areas of very runnable heathland; courses are directed towards those where possible.

Coniferous plantation:

All courses will visit this area. The plantation is mature and offers some areas of fast running. Where there is vegetation, such as Bracken, this will be at its lowest when the event is held. Nevertheless, courses have been planned to allow easy avoidance of any 'bad' vegetation.

Mixed Coniferous and Deciduous forest:

Competitors on some courses will also have the pleasure of visiting controls in this area. It is fast and runnable. Again, any vegetation will be at its lowest when the event takes place.

Map Notes:

The map scale is 1:10,000, with 5 metre contours, for all courses. It has been updated in January 2023 by John Pearce. Key points to note are:

- Hides have not been mapped, as these are numerous and regularly move.
- In some areas, there are many small animal and mountain bike trails; only the most significant of these have been mapped.
- A black X denotes a sign.
- A black circle denotes a flagpole.

Out of Bounds Areas: There are a number of out of bounds areas marked on the competition maps as follows:

- Highlighted in purple cross hatching are three areas which are out of bounds due to the ecological sensitivity of land in question.
- Highlighted by vertical black lines are the grenade range, where live firing takes place, and agricultural fields.
- Highlighted with purple 'X's are public highways.

Courses have been planned so that there is no advantage to be gained by entering these areas. Notwithstanding this, it is imperative that all competitors avoid the out of bounds areas in any circumstances. Failure to adhere to this rule could result in a significant safety risk to yourself and may jeopardise future use of the area for orienteering. Furthermore, any competitors seen in these areas will be disqualified.

Registration: Pre-entry is via <https://racesignup.co.uk>. Pre-entry is preferred where possible for all courses. Race Sign Up registration has been extended until Thursday 23 February 1800hrs. There will be a limited number of spare maps for entry on the day, but competitors run the risk of being unable to complete their preferred course should maps run out.

Event timings: Starts are from 1030 -1300hrs. Courses will close at 1430hrs. If you are a slower runner, please choose an early start to ensure that you finish and download by 1430hrs. Controls will be collected from 1430hrs.

Course information: This is a local event with a range of courses available: Brown, Blue, Green, Short Green, Light Green, Orange, Yellow and White. An explanation of the course colours can be found at: <https://www.devonorienteering.co.uk/beginner>.
