

Holne Moor Event Yellow course

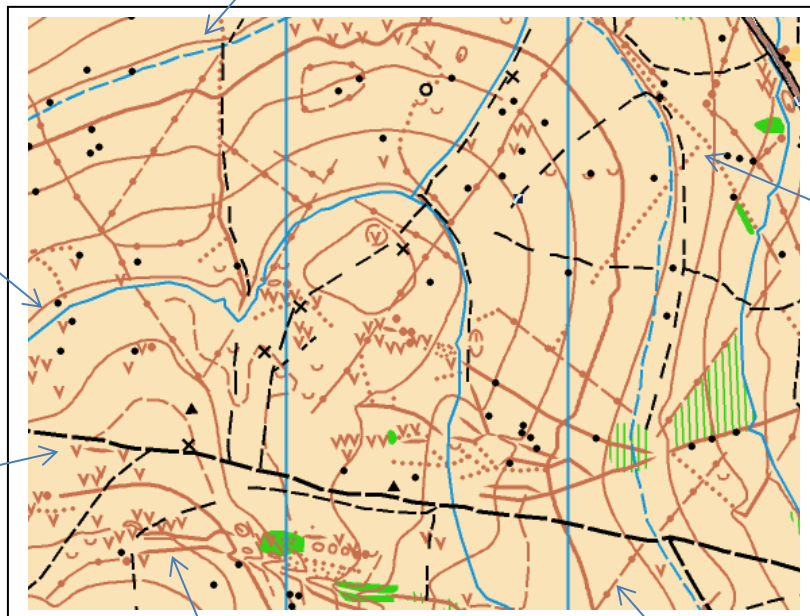

Many yellow courses in woods are mainly on paths. However, the yellow course on the moor uses quite a few different line features so to make sure you understand what they all are an explanation is given below. The bit of the map below is taken from the Holne moor map itself. Hopefully this may help you.

Blue dashed line. A normally dry man made stream (a leat)

Blue solid line
A Stream or Leat with water in

Black dashes
Path / track

Brown dotted line
A small gully more like a ditch

Brown lines (not to be confused with contour lines which run around the sides of hills)
These are gully's dug into the ground

Brown line with gaps and circles These are earthbanks. Often straight but not always very obvious
